Governor Pitkin's Funeral

PUEBLO, December 20.—Business houses, banks and numerous private residences display signs of mourning for Pitkin's death. Many were closed. The Young Men's Republican club issued a circular for citizens to assemble at 11:30 thence headed by Militia Co. C, drum beating, a funeral march, walked to the deceased's house. The procession left there about 1 o'clock. The militia, hearse, pall bearers, and an immense number of carriages proceeded to the Denver, Texas and Gulf depot. The coffin was dispatched by special train at 1:30. The criminal court also adjourned. The pall bearers were D. N. Jones, M. H. Fitch, James Rice, Alva Adams, D. F. Urmy, J. A. Thatcher.

Rev. Mecham, temporary pastor of the M. E. church officiated. The coffin plate bore the name and dates of birth and death. The schools closed this afternoon. In the procession were the mayor, aldermen and civil officials and 100 citizens.

DENVER, December 20.—A delegation of state ex-state and city officials left Denver at 7 this morning by special train for Pueblo to attend the funeral of Governor Pitkin. At 12:30 the delegation in company with the Pueblo militia and citizens accompanied the remains to Denver in a special funeral train over the Denver, Texas and Gulf road, arriving here at 7:30 this evening. The casket will be immediately conveyed to the state executive chambers where they will lie in state until to-morrow noon, when they will be taken to the Lawrence Street Methodist church. The funeral will be preached by Rev. Dr. David H. Moore, after which the remains will be taken to Riverside for interment. The pall bearers here will be Judges Beck, Helm and Elbert of the supreme court, Governor Eaton, ex-Governor Grant, Colonel L. H. Eicholtz and Hon. Hugh Butler.

GOV. EATON'S PROCLAMATION

Governor Eaton yesterday issued the following proclamation:

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
DENVER, COLO., Dec. 18, 1886.

Whereas, in the course of human events, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst one of our noblest and most honored citizens, Frederick W. Pitkin, a citizen loved, honored and cherished by the people of this state who had twice been called to the executive chair and who had by his kindness, his firmness, his integrity and his ability, won the hearts and praises of our people, so that the intelligence of his death at this time casts a gloom throughout the length and breadth of the state. His distinguished career as the chief executive of this state, his devotion to the public good and his faithfulness to every public trust during the darkest days of the first years of our trials as a commonwealth are so well known and still so fresh in the minds of the people of this state that they need no recital here. Now, therefore, in honor of ex-Governor Pitkin's memory and in order to give the people an opportunity to testify to their appreciation of the high esteem in which they held him while living and to do honor to the memory of a good man, a loyal citizen, a true friend, a faithful and distinguished public officer, I hereby direct that the national flags upon all public buildings of the state be kept lowered at half mast, that the state house and the executive office be draped in appropriate mourning and that all ordinary business in the various departments of the state be suspended until after the burial of our distinguished citizen and friend. In witness thereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state to be affixed, the day and year above written.

[Signed] BENJAMIN H. EATON
By the governor MELVIN EDWARDS, Secretary of State

THE FUNERAL TRAIN REACHES DENVER

DENVER, December 20.—The funeral train bearing the remains of ex-Governor Pitkin reached here at 7 o'clock. The front car contained the casket, Company C, of the state militia and the pall bearers, Messrs. Alva Adams, Captain J. J. Lambert, Captain James Rice, J. A. Thatcher, F. D. Urmy, D. N. Jones and H. M. Fitch. The rear coach was occupied by Mrs. Pitkin, her daughter and son, Mrs. D. N. Jones, Mrs. I. W. Stanton and Mrs. Captain O. J. Smith, Governor Eaton, Judges Elbert, Stone and Beck, Governor Gilpin, General Stimson, C. W. Wright, H. A. Spruance, State Treasurer Swallow, Joseph C. Shattuck, Prof. Cornell, R. M. Stevenson, Hon. H. A. W. Tabor, W. G. Smith, N. H. Meldrum, P. W. Breene and others from Denver, Mayor D. L. Holden, Major McCoy in charge of the military escort, Senator Chilcott, I. W. Stanton, A. F. Smith, J. F. Drake, Andy Grome, John Horgan, Wm. Cox, Klaas Wildeboos, W. C. Stawson, John Mitchell, A. Graham and M. E. Guyot. The train on its arrival was met at the depot by citizens and a detachment of the state militia and the remains conveyed to the state executive chambers, where they will lie in state until to-morrow noon.

Mrs. Pitkin and family were driven to the Windsor hotel, where rooms had been engaged for them. Many friends called to offer their sympathies, but, being indisposed, only a few were admitted. The executive chamber, in which the body lies, is draped in mourning. The large portraits of the governors of Colorado, which hang upon the walls, are also draped, as is the national colors which hang over the front windows. The portrait of Governor Pitkin, which occupies a position at the end of the room, is very beautifully draped. Underneath the picture, on a table, are many beautiful floral tributes, among which are a handsome wreath from the Pitkin guards, an anchor from the Colorado National guards, and a most beautiful harp of lilies, roses and chrysanthemums, from the Tribune-Republican. A guard of honor is stationed in the room, which is relieved every hour.

Acting Mayor Nettleton has issued a proclamation closing the public offices of the city government to-morrow at noon and calling upon business men to suspend general business between noonday and sunset out of respect to the memory of the deceased ex-governor and to afford all who desire an opportunity to attend the funeral, which is announced for 1:30 to-morrow afternoon. Orders were also issued to-day to lower flags on the city buildings to half mast and to the janitors to drape the entrances of respective buildings appropriately in mourning.

Stanford on Inter State Commerce

CHICAGO, December 20.—A Washington correspondent telegraphs an interview with Senator Stanford on the pending inter state commerce bill. The senator said: "It will have a very injurious effect on the Pacific coast. What the merchant of the Pacific slope wants, like the merchants in all other portions of the country, is regularity of freight rates. On most of the merchandise he deals in a difference of $1 or $3 a ton in freights has no direct effect upon the prices of manufactured articles. A reduction of $5 a ton, for instance, would make a difference of only about one fifth of a cent on the selling price per pound of goods, which neither merchant nor customer will take into consideration. It is too small to be perceptible, and every merchant when he buys his goods in May or September stands on the same basis so far as freights are concerned, but fluctuations on freights disturb trade and cause loss of profits to shippers who have not had the advantages of the lowest figures. Railroad managers are not enemies of the public as denunciators would have the people believe, but are studying all the time to discover how they can best serve their constituents, as well as themselves, and long experience has shown that the present system of pooling is the best method of securing regularity of rates that has ever been adopted. The long and short haul provision of the bill will probably prevent railroads from doing a wholesale business, and shippers at competing points will lose the advantage of competition. Take the farmer, for example, who has his crop to ship to market. If he lives four miles from one road and eight from another he will haul his produce the longer distance if the railroad there will carry it at less than half the price that will be charged by the road that is nearer. Under the bill the road will be compelled to charge him a proportionate rate for the longer distance. The road will not suffer, but the producer and consumer will, for one gets less for his product and the latter will be compelled to pay more. If investment of money in railroads is legislated against the men who are engaged in railroads should be allowed to control their property just as much as if they had invested it in a whisky mill instead."

McQuade Sentenced

NEW YORK, December 20.—Ex-Alderman McQuade was this morning sentenced to seven years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of five thousand dollars.

Recorder Smith said he thought it was his duty to take more than usual caution in all the details of this case. Officers were picked at a respectable hotel for the accommodation of the jury. The jurors were conscientiously warned on each occasion of their leaving the court room; the recorder also took special pains to caution the jurors that they would not be allowed to receive letters or calls from any one not even members of their family. In fact special caution had been used and the court was satisfied that the interests of the prisoner had been carefully guarded. McQuade was ordered to stand up and did so with his thumbs in his pantaloon pockets.

"The defense," remarked General Tracy, "has nothing to say why sentence should not be pronounced against him; we rely on his former good character and the esteem in which he is still held by his neighbors and acquaintances who are many of them here now to ask for the leniency of the court."

The recorder said in substance:

Arthur J. McQuade: You have been fairly and justly convicted of bribery. You were elected to perform a public duty and a public trust. Instead of doing so you violated the trust. Your character as a business man, citizen, father, husband is good. I have sympathy for your wife and family. You should have considered them before you did wrong. You did not add to the crime of which you have been convicted, as Jachne by taking the stand and committing perjury. I have reason to believe you received as much money as Duffy did, $10,000. That money is not yours. It is not the property of your family. If it is left with them it will work the inevitable result of ill gotten gain. I would advise you to give up and pay back to the city the money which you received and I have no doubt it would work to your benefit. The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the state's prison at hard labor for a term of seven years and that you pay a fine of five thousand dollars.

During the sentence McQuade stood up his arms folded across his bosom in a manner habitual to him. After the sentence was given the audience dispersed, McQuade going out with his keepers and the faithful brother who had stood by his side throughout his trial. Counsel for McQuade obtained a copy of the sentence and then left the room. McQuade was immediately taken to the Tombs, and after the usual formalities was locked in cell 17.

McQuade will be given a few days to fix up his bank account, look after his business and draw the necessary power of attorney.

A Big Boy

DENVER, December 20.—Charles W. Ware, the 18 year old son of Captain Sampson Ware, died Saturday of bronchitis. The boy had a most wonderful growth and was known when alive as the giant. He was six feet four inches high and is said to have weighed 320 pounds.

Nobody Guilty.

LONDON, December 20.—In the Campbell divorce case the jury returned a verdict finding that Lord Colin Campbell had not committed adultery, and that Lady Colin had not committed adultery with any of the corespondents. The jury added that the conduct of General Butler was unworthy a gentleman and an officer and had caused the only difficulty which the jury experienced in reaching a decision. The announcement of the verdict was received with applause.

Contagion in Cattle

WASHINGTON, December 20.—Senator Spooner to-day, by request of Senator Miller who is absent, introduced a bill to extirpate contagious pleuro pneumonia foot and mouth disease and rinderpest among cattle and to facilitate exportation of cattle and products of live stock.

Section 1 authorizes the president to appoint a commission of three persons to be known as the United States cattle commission. He may in his judgment suspend the functions and pay of these commissioners and restore them again at any time. The salaries of the commissioners are fixed at $5,000 per annum.

Section 2 makes it the duty of the commissioners to cause investigation to be made as to the existence of contagious pleuro pneumonia foot and mouth diseases or rinderpest, and for this purpose they are authorized to enter either by person or by agents any premises in which they have reason to believe such disease exists. Upon discovering the existence of disease the commissioners are authorized to give public notice of the fact specifying the location and also to notify in writing the agents of any transportation company doing business in or through the infected locality. The commissioners are requested to establish and maintain such quarantine of animals, premises or localities as they may deem necessary to prevent spread of the disease, and also to cause appraisal and destruction of infected or exposed animals. The owners of animals destroyed are to be paid three fourths the value of the animals as determined upon a basis of health before infected in the case of animals diseased, and full appraised value in case of animals exposed but not infected with the disease. It is provided, however, that not more than $100 shall be paid for any animal destroyed which has a recorded pedigree nor more than $30 for an animal without a pedigree, provided further that in no case shall compensation be allowed for any animal destroyed which may have contracted or been exposed to disease in a foreign country or on the high seas, nor shall compensation be allowed any one who knowingly or wilfully conceals the existence of any such disease or the fact of exposure thereto.

Section 3 authorizes the commissioners to make rules and regulations for carrying the provisions of the bill into effect, the rules to have effect when approved by the president.

Sections 4, 5 and 6 prescribe penalties for obstructing the commissioners in the performance of their duties for concealing disease and for transporting or delivering for transportation from one state to another diseased animals, knowing them to be such.

Section 6 makes it the duty of the commissioners wherever any owner of animals refuses to accept the sum authorized to be paid under appraisement to declare and maintain rigid quarantine of animals and premises where cattle may be found.

Other sections make it the duty of district attorneys to prosecute violations of the provisions of the bill, authorize employment of a secretary to the commission, and of skilled veterinarians, and direct that when the functions of the commissioners are suspended their offices and records shall be turned over to the commissioner of agriculture.

The bill appropriates $1,000,000 to carry its provisions into effect. A similar bill was introduced in the house to-day by Delegate Carey of Wyoming by direction of the house agricultural committee. It is understood that the bill was prepared by representatives of the Consolidated Cattle Growers' association.

Homestead Right.

WASHINGTON, December 20.—Commissioner Sparks of the general land office has received a letter from a law firm at Weston, Plains, Mo., enclosing a newspaper paragraph stating that Judge Blair of Wyoming instructed a jury in a recent case that a person who has made a homestead entry and commuted it to cash and afterwards made another homestead entry is not guilty of perjury in swearing in the second case that he had not previously had the benefit of the homestead laws, and that in giving this instruction Judge Blair decided that a person who makes an commutes a homestead entry does not thereby exhaust his rights under the homestead law. In response to this letter Commissioner Sparks says that if such a decision has been made it will have no effect whatever unless it may be to induce ignorant persons to make fraudulent entries. By section 2289 of the revised statutes," says the commissioner, "one homestead entry only can be made by one person and by section 2298 commutation of that entry to cash does not enable him to make another homestead entry, and any decision to the contrary would be in direct violation and contempt of the statute and if Judge Blair has made the decision attributed to him it will not be recognized or respected by this office."

National Bank Circulation

WASHINGTON, December 20.—Following is the text of a bill introduced in the house today by Mr. Warner:

SECTION 1. That the secretary of the treasury be and is hereby authorized and required to invest 90 per cent of lawful money deposited with the treasurer of the United States at the date of passage of this act, and 90 per cent of all such money hereafter deposited for redemption of circulating notes of national banks, as provided by section 4 of the act June 20, 1874, and amendments thereto, in the 3 per cent bonds of the United States, or in the 4½ per cent bonds of the United States. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to sell such bonds to meet demands for such lawful money to secure the redemption of circulating notes of said banks.

SEC. 2. That interest on the bonds purchased as required in this act shall be the same accrued shall be converted into the treasury, and whenever the interest so thus paid or the value of the notes of the national banks for the redemption of which lawful money has been deposited the excess of the bonds so held as security for such outstanding circulating notes shall be canceled and destroyed.

SEC. 3. That circulating notes of national banks for the redemption of which lawful money has been deposited may be redeemed out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated and whenever in the judgment of the secretary of the treasury such circulating notes cannot be redeemed out of any money in the treasury without impairing the gold reserve he may order the sale of a ratably of the bonds purchased and held as provided in this act as may be necessary to redeem the circulating notes of national banks as the same are offered for redemption but not in excess of $3 at any time for redemption not exceeding 10 per cent of such outstanding notes.

SEC. 4. That no national bank shall be required hereafter to deposit or keep on deposit to secure circulating notes United States bonds to an amount exceeding one twenty fifth of its capital and in no case more than $1,000,000 and hereafter all national banks shall be entitled to receive circulating notes for such bonds at their par value equal to the par value of the bonds so deposited.

Our merchants seem to have a better Christmas trade this year than ever. They have good stocks and there is no need of going out of town for Christmas presents.

Lord Lonsdale said in New York that he had the appointment of forty two curates and that he is very particular about their moral character. Lord Lonsdale is regarded as an expert in morals and should be able to make wise selections. It is a wonder that the Church of England has had so much spiritual power under such a system.

Michael Davitt's opinion of the crisis in Ireland published in a dispatch elsewhere probably is the clearest statement of the Irish view of the contest now going on in Ireland. If the Irish party without any great outrage can precipitate a policy of coercion, it will bring on a crisis in parliament and lead to a new election. It is pretty certain that at a new election the home rule party will win, unless Irish outrages shall stay the steady growth in England of Irish sympathy.

There is likely to be an interesting debate in the house over a bill introduced by Major Oates of Alabama which proposes to put an end to pleasure parties to attend funerals. It will meet with opposition. Already Timothy Campbell of New York has declared his disgust that the committee to attend the funeral of the late Representative Dowdney of New York were allowed only a three days spree instead of seven. If the bill can pass it were better the debate were in secret session.

The death of Governor Pitkin drew forth an expression of grief all over the state that was a remarkable testimony to his worth as a citizen and a man. We can now think of no one living whose loss would be so much mourned. In our notice of last Sunday we should have mentioned the fact that soon after coming to Colorado he made this his home for two years. Though Pueblo has been his home for many years, it did not contain more sincere friends than were here.

The appointment of Judge Cooley as receiver of the Wabash system east of the Mississippi is received with universal satisfaction outside of the Gould party. His high character and great ability inspire confidence in the wise management of the road in the interest of the owners. Judge Cooley was made professor of law in the university of Michigan in 1859. In 1863 he was elected to the supreme bench of Michigan and served continuously for about twenty years. He is one of the ablest writers on legal subjects in the country and is universally respected.

General Fitzhugh Lee is worried about Virginia. He said in a recent letter to the Washington Post "If Virginia democrats are wise they will begin at once to repair their fences, declaring that unless they are more active and vigilant in some parts of the state than they were at the recent congressional election the party will not have a United States senatorship to bestow. This is rather a frank admission and it is to be hoped it has good foundation. A break in the solid south beginning with Virginia, would be practical settlement of this sectional question.

The illness of Parnell will excite great alarm among the friends of the Irish cause. His prominence as a leader would make his death a calamity to Ireland. It is hardly ten years since he entered parliament. He won the confidence of his associates not by any brilliancy of oratory or magnetism of manner. When he became the chosen leader he was no respected as a speaker, nor did he have any strong personal following. Butt's influence as a leader was gone. Shaw, who was chosen as his successor, proved unsuccessful, and in 1879 Parnell succeeded to the lead of the home rule party with hardly forty votes behind him. He was the first to realize the power of parliamentary obstruction and this has been his real source of strength as a leader. He knew no cause but the Irish and has acted with or against each party as he considered best for Ireland. His support of the tory party in the election of 1885 seemed gross ingratitude after what the liberal party had done for Ireland in the face of the opposition of the tory party. But he saw that it was for his interest to strengthen the weaker party. When the election was over it was found that he held the balance of power and could change the ministry whenever he liked. This made it imperative for parliament to deal radically with the Irish question. He has succeeded not only in wielding complete ascendency in Irish politics, but has so won the respect of Englishmen that instead of being considered a noisy demagogue he is thought to be one of the shrewdest and ablest of parliamentary leaders. His patriotism and devotion are no longer questioned. Such complete victory over public opinion and rise in political leadership are the best testimony to his ability and character.

Chief Tax Bureau of Quebec has prohibited Catholics from attending the meetings of the Salvation army. Tracts and hymn books distributed by the Salvationists are ordered to be thrown into the fire.

Lord Coleridge denounces as a stupid invention and a totally destitute of any foundation what ever the story that the queen has forbidden the entrance of papers containing reports of the Campbell trial into Windsor castle.

Congressman Anderson of the Thirteen club in New York said the truth of the statement that he preached infidelity because it paid him and not because he believed in it, was not a gentleman, though he might be a minister of the gospel.

W. H. Travers, the wit of Wall street one day saw his wife bringing a motto to their home which read "God Bless Our Home." He put one in the other corner, said Mr. Travers. What is the motto? I would like to have it read, "And a nice Cook."

Some recent denunciations of pugilism have revived in print the speech John L. Sullivan made when the authorities of New York city interfered with his joint debate with Paddy Ryan. "The dudes lay each other up playing foot ball and the women go out and watch one pound each other; they killed two jockeys in one week at the Brighton Beach races; but the man that licked the worst in Madison Square Garden was around drinking rum the same evening as chipper as a bull terrier. It ain't a square deal."

Free from Pleuro

CHICAGO, December 20.—The Shufeldt Distillery company announces that it has thoroughly disinfected its sheds which were recently occupied by cattle afflicted with pleuro pneumonia and will at once fill them with steers or bulls. A watchman to be designated by the state live stock commission and paid by the distillery company will be hired to see that no cattle are removed from the sheds except for slaughter, and then only after having been passed upon by a veterinarian. The company agrees to be responsible for any outbreak of contagious disease in the sheds. The company believes with Dr. Gadsden that pleuro-pneumonia can only be communicated by the breath of a living animal. The wound was not serious and as the dog so far as known had never been out of the house since the day of its birth and had never been with other dogs nothing was thought of it. About eight days ago however the young lady began to show symptoms of the dread disease and two physicians were called in. Their efforts to relieve her sufferings were of no avail and she rapidly grew worse until yesterday when she died in the greatest agony.

CITY COUNCIL.

Business Transacted at the Regular Meeting Last Evening.

A regular meeting of the city council was held last evening, with Mayor Dow and Aldermen Hemenway, Himebaugh, Wilder, Stillman, Lawton, Hughes, Bentley and Skinner in attendance.

The minutes of the previous regular meeting were read and approved.

The committee on public grounds and buildings, to whom was referred the resolution of Alderman Wilder authorizing the committee to have the fences around Acacia place and Alamo park removed, reported that, in their opinion, the removal of these fences would result in great injury to these parks, and recommended that the council, at the proper time, should make sufficient appropriations to erect new fences around both parks.

The committee on printing to whom was referred the bills of S. N. Francis and T. A. McMorris asked for further time to consider these bills which was allowed them.

The report of Police Magistrate Severy for the months of September and October was read and placed on file.

An ordinance concerning contagious diseases was then introduced by Alderman Skinner, and on motion the rules were suspended by a unanimous vote for the purpose of considering and acting upon the ordinance. The ordinance was then adopted by the following vote: ayes, Wilder, Stillman, Hemenway, Himebaugh, Lawton, Bentley and Skinner; nays, Hughes.

[The ordinance as passed appears in another column.]

The following bills were audited and allowed:

R. J. Reid	$ 21 00
J. H. Severy	75 00
J. Baird	6 40
E. W. Roberts	12 00
M. Fuller	25 00
O. S. Barnes & Son	4 75
W. A. Hardin	3 00

On motion of Alderman Stillman the city clerk was directed to notify the Gas company that the city would dispense with the use of six gas posts. These posts are in the territory which is now lighted by the electric lights.

The matter of constructing the new reservoir next engaged the attention of the council. Alderman Himebaugh stated that since the last meeting of the council the committee had received several bids for constructing the reservoir which while coming within the amount appropriated, yet the margin was so small that practically nothing would be left to pay the expenses of superintending the work etc. He further stated that if the capacity of the reservoir was reduced from 14,000,000 to 9,000,000 gallons all of the expenses including the cost of construction would amount to about $6370.

Alderman Lawton introduced the following resolution, which was adopted:

Be it resolved by the City Council, That the committee on irrigation and cemetery be authorized to have the city engineer make a survey and estimate with a view of ascertaining the cost of supplying Evergreen cemetery with water for sprinkling and irrigating purposes.

Alderman Lawton also introduced the following resolution, which was adopted by a rising vote of all the aldermen present:

Resolved, That the city council of Colorado Springs, Colorado, have heard with profound sorrow of the death at Pueblo of the Hon. F. W. Pitkin, late governor of the state and formerly a citizen of this city, where his amiability, great excellence, intelligence and shining qualities won for him universal respect and where he will long be remembered as a most worthy citizen and an honest man.

On motion of Alderman Bentley the city clerk was directed to have a copy of the resolution suitably engrossed and sent to the family of the late governor. The council then adjourned.

ENGLISH LITERATURE CLASS.

Questions for the Next Meeting of Mr. Gregg's Class.

The following is a list of the questions for the next meeting of Mr. Gregg's literature class:

LOWELL AS A RELIGIOUS POET.

God in Nature, Man, History, Familiar Epistle ("nor nature fails."). Sea-weed, Cathedral ("man cannot be on Power,") Ode July 4, 1876. (Close), Si Descendero, New Year's Eve, to W. L. Garrison, Elegy on the Death of Dr. Channing, Glance Behind the Curtain, Present Crisis.

Chance, Destiny, Fate,—do these words satisfy Lowell's thought? Compare the Miner with the close of the cathedral. What does Lowell mean by the "commonplace of miracle?" Compare Masaccio. True prayer and its obstacles. Compare Sea-weed and Cathedral. ("I that still pray.") Toward surely the soul's strongest proof of God.

Freedom, Fellowship and Character in Religion. Besides poems already referred to, Mahmood, Bibliolatres, Ambrose, Capture of Slaves, A Voyage to Vinland, Godminster Chimes, The Search, Parting of the Ways, Extreme Unction, Anti-Apis, Longing, Villa Franca, All-Saints the Ghost-Seer, A Contrast. Pagan and Christian ideas of God and the human soul. (Among my Books II. 97, 101.) Grecian and Gothic architecture as emblematic of these. Which does Lowell love and why? The ancient faith. Lowell's attitude towards it and its framers. Religion of the Puritans, their problem and ours. (Among my books, I., 225-9.) Our New Freedom. (My Study-Windows, 193-195.) The doubt of to-day and Lowell's fearlessness of its chemic tests. The purpose hidden there. Credulity and superstition of scepticism. (Among my books, I., 148 9.

IMMORTALITY.

Death of a Friend's Child. The Changeling. The First Snow Fall. Palinode. Memoriae Positum. Commemoration. Ode 4, 8, 9.

Is the immortal life a truth to Lowell? The two immortalities of influence and of conscious life—which is the greater as inclusive of the other? Does Lowell believe in this? Compare Emerson's essay on Immortality. Is Lowell's popularity increasing? Of what qualities is a poet's popularity an evidence?

Davitt's Opinions.

CHICAGO, December 19.—Michael Davitt, the Irish patriot, passed through the city yesterday morning on route from Quebec to the far west on business of a personal and particularly happy nature. Mr. Davitt was asked concerning the significance of the recent arrest by the government of John Dillon, member of parliament for East Mayo, William O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, and the other Irish leaders who were acting as trustees in conducting the "plan of the campaign."

Mr. Davitt said: "I am not at all surprised at the situation. The government is making itself ridiculous. If this "plan of the campaign" is really illegal, the government should have struck a blow long ago. The fact that it has allowed Dillon, O'Brien and others to carry it on for months, shows its hesitancy to declare it illegal.

"The alleged charge of conspiring to defraud is ridiculous, because, United Ireland and those who are engaged in this movement are acting in open daylight, hence the absurdity of the charge of conspiracy.

"If the tenant farmers show a desire to give their rent or a portion of it into the hands of public men, and do it without compulsion, the charge of fraud against Dillon and O'Brien, because they have received such money, is simply ridiculous. Suppose they bring Dillon and O'Brien to trial before a jury on such a charge, no jury in Ireland will convict them."

"What, then, is the meaning of this move on the part of the government?"

"I think the action of the government in making the arrests and bringing the men to trial is just like the course that was pursued by Gladstone's government in 1881 preparatory to adopting measures of coercion. Gladstone's law officers at that time instituted state trials of Parnell and the executives of the land league, not with the hope of obtaining a conviction, but to show to English public opinion that the ordinary law was ineffectual to cope with the state of things in Ireland, and that therefore exceptional legislation was required. I have no doubt that this is the line of argument that will be adopted by Sir Michael Hicks Beach and Lord Randolph Churchill when in the early days of the coming session of parliament they apply for exceptional powers to deal with the National League in Ireland.

"What will be the effect of such an application for exceptional power?"

This means that we are on the eve of another, probably the last and most desperate, fight with coercion. Both the league and Ireland are quite prepared for the struggle which will be the fifty-fifth of the kind waged between Ireland and England during the last eighty-six years. This means that fifty-five similar measures have proved so many failures, and, in sporting language, the betting is 55 to 1 that Ireland wins in the coming contest. I expect to be home in Ireland in a few weeks before all the prisons are filled. I look also for a speedy appearance upon the field of action, and I am confident that in a few months the belligerent tory party will have had quite enough of coercion in Ireland. I firmly believe that the English, Scotch and Welsh feeling will be with the Irish in this struggle, and against the course of action of the tories."

The Plan Goes On.

DUBLIN, December 20.—Joseph Richard Cox, Jeremiah Jordan and Joseph Edward Kenny, Parnellite members for East and West Clare and South Cork respectively, succeeded yesterday in totally hoodwinking the police and in collecting and escaping with all the rent due from tenants on the Vandeleur estates in County Clare. They went to Kilrush Friday last. It was known to the police that they went there to act as trustees under "the plan of campaign" to collect from tenants of the Vandeleur estates reduced rents refused by the proprietors. The authorities, however, could not ascertain the nature of the arrangement to be carried out between the tenants and trustees and were led to believe that the tenants were to assemble at Kilrush Sunday.

DUBLIN, December 20.—Leagues are taking precautions to prevent another coup like that at Loughrea. In some instances they are secretly appointing fresh trustees.

Healy will represent Messrs. Dillon, Redmond, O'Kelly, Harris and Sheedy at their trial here Thursday next, when they will be called upon to answer to a charge of conspiracy in receiving as tenants' trustees for reduced rents which had been refused by landlords.

Pachanco, nationalist member of parliament for South Kilkenny, writing to prominent nationalists concerning the arrests and seizure of Loughrea, charges the executive with conspiracy, false imprisonment, assault and battery, trespass and robbery.

A Smelting Enterprise.

DENVER, December 20.—The Holden Smelting Co. here reorganized Saturday by the election of the following board of directors: C. B. Kountze, Samuel Adams, Edward R. Holden, John L. McNeil, Malvern W. Iles, W. B. Berger and Arthur Chanute. Holden was re-elected president and general manager, Samuel Adams vice president, Jno. M. Walker secretary and treasurer and M. W. Iles superintendent and metallurgist. C. B. Kountze takes $10,000 of the treasury stock. The company say they will soon erect two new stacks, making the capacity of the smelter 250 tons daily.

The Aspen Case.

DENVER, December 20.—After offering some documentary evidence this morning the defense in the Durant-Emma case closed the testimony and plaintiffs began rebutting testimony. Ricketts, Lloyd, Sayer, Baldwin, Hallam, Freeland and others were on the stand. Their attack was on Van Wagner's model and the existence of pay ore in blde lime rock. Argument to the jury will begin in the morning. Judge Hallett will give each side of the case seven hours for their argument. The judge has not yet decided whether he will instruct the jury Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

Story of a Murder.

RICHMOND, Va., December 20.—Some months ago Richard Schnick, keeper of a bar-room patronized promiscuously by whites and blacks, sold out his business and left the city for the west, leaving his wife behind. Last Saturday Mrs. Schnick, who has been ill with consumption complicated with other diseases, finding her end fast approaching, made her ante mortem statement of the details of a murder perpetrated by her husband over a year ago. Schnick lived over the bar-room and his wife was frequently called on to assist him. She says that some night last fall between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock she happened to enter the bar room by the back door, when she saw her husband, who was in front of the bar, strike and knock down a white man with a pair of brass knuckles; that he turned and seeing her ordered her to go upstairs, which she did. She could not rest, however, and creeping down again she peeped into the bar, when she was horrified to see her husband drag the man's body behind the counter, rob it of a roll of money, raise a trap in the floor of the bar and push the body into an old well under the floor. Upon this information the police to-day went to work to find the remains but were unsuccessful in the search. Harvey Mather, search will be instituted, and the house thoroughly overhauled.

The Situation on Wall Street

NEW YORK, December 20.—The opening on stocks this morning was remarkably weak. First prices showed declines of from ¾ to 1¾, the latter in New England, while the other stocks were down over 1 per cent. The trading was active for the first half hour, after which it became quiet. Prices were generally weak. Missouri Pacific, Northwest, Lackawanna, St. and St. Paul. Later a rally occurred in Wabash, New England was conspicuous, sharing in the improvement. The rallies were generally fractional and at 11 the market was moderately active and heavy to weak.

Stocks were sold down by heavy liquidating orders from London account today. There was talk on the board that Gould was breaking the market to force London liquidation. The fall in Missouri Pacific of 2 per cent is ascribed to this cause. Heavy sales by London it is thought will put upward shipments of gold. L. and W. S. Hamin & Co., who have $1,300,000 of French gold allotted, consigned to them, today cabled an order to London ordering shipments to stop on this account. New England was an exception to the general list and was strong on Boston buying.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, December 20.—Money on call quiet at 2 to 7, closing offered at 2; prime paper 4 to 5; sterling exchange quiet and steady at 4 87½ for 60 days, 4 88½ for demand; government bonds dull and steady. There was heavier selling of stocks for London account this morning than has been noticed since the decline first began.

Mining shares were dull. Hale and Norcross 3.10, Ante 3, Alta 1.55 to 1.60, Sutro 2.60, Bodie 2.50, Silver Cliff 37, Standard 1.35, Iron Hill 1.15.

will keep on increasing its business by selling piles of the best goods you can buy for the money.

IN FINE DRESS SUITS AND OVERCOATS

We can and do give as good fit and general contour (in many cases better) than any merchant tailor in the country, while none carry finer goods, nor yet do they use better trimmings, and when we come to the great American question of dollars and cents, our rates are from one-third to one-half lower.

To be convinced, step in any day and try on a few of our high grade Over Garments. We have them by thousands. Prices anywhere from $8.00 to $28.00; and if there is any doubt lingering in your mind that you cannot select an Overcoat or a Fine Dress Suit ready for immediate wear, it will be quickly and agreeably dispelled.

PAINTS & WALL PAPER.

Our New Styles of WALL PAPER have been arriving for the last month, and we would say that our stock is the largest and best that can be seen in this city. We do not hesitate in saying that if any one is in need of Wall Paper and will give us a call but what we can please them in Styles and Prices, however fastidious they may be, and as we do not employ any but first-class tradesmen you can depend upon it that your work will be done so that you won't have to be doing it over every six months. You will then see that it don't pay you to employ those who resort to Painting and Paper Hanging when every other device has failed them for a fitting. Or should you listen to the recommends of those who talk them up, for they will only do so when there is money in it for themselves. Paints, Oils, Lead, Brushes, Varnishes, Glass and Window Shades.

The Salt Lake Tribune in a recent issue contains a column article on the doings of Prof. Wm. H. Ward, who was in Colorado Springs last spring and summer. According to this article the professor has been exploiting some of the secrets of Mormonism which he became possessed of in Salt Lake City. The Tribune characterizes these statements as gross exaggerations and condemns their author in unmeasured terms.

A correspondent of the Gunnison Review-Press writes to that journal from Irwin to the effect that that camp will experience next year the greatest activity in the development of its mines that has occurred for several years. There are many of our citizens who have large mining interests in that locality to whom this will be interesting news.

A report was in circulation yesterday to the effect that the origin of Sunday morning's fire was incendiary, but several who have visited the place seem to think that it originated from spontaneous combustion, as there was a large pile of cracklings in the rear room which the least spark would have readily ignited. Immediately over the pile is a large hole burned in the ceiling showing that the fire must have originated from the cracklings.
